

I give you permission to pass my info to businesses around the country as long as you give them your personal info as well. While you are at it, why don't you let me call you repeatedly with absolutely no purpose but to annoy you?